BDLive - Aspen Pharmacare shrugged off Thursday's broad market slump after receiving unsolicited offers for parts of its business, with Naspers and Prosus leading the JSE sharply lower amid another regulatory crackdown on China's technology sector.

Aspen, SA's largest pharmaceutical company by market capitalisation, rose the most in four months on Thursday after saying it had received two offers to buy parts of its global active pharmaceutical ingredients (API), which manufacturers the active ingredients used in medications. World share markets slipped for a third straight day on Thursday as Beijing took another swipe at its big tech firms, while bond markets steered for European Central Bank signals later about a gradual withdrawal of its stimulus.

Europe's regional Stoxx 600 flirted with a six-week low in early trading, while Chinese tech giants Tencent, NetEase and Alibaba had slumped 6%, 7% and 4%, respectively, overnight after online gaming chiefs were summoned by authorities to check they are sticking to strict new rules for the sector.

BDLive - Bengaluru — Gold slipped on Thursday to hover near two-week lows as a stronger US dollar weighed on prices, while investors sought cues from major central banks as policymakers signalled support for tapering pandemic-era stimulus.

Spot gold fell 0.1% to $1,787.81/oz by 3.41am GMT, after touching its lowest level since August 26 at $1,781.30 in the previous session. US gold futures eased 0.2% to $1,790.00.

Nerves among investors continue over the pace of the global recovery and this has continued to push the greenback higher, said Jeffrey Halley, a senior market analyst, Asia Pacific at Oanda, adding that "dollar strength places gold in grave danger of a material fall in prices".

Gold could test support at $1,780 and a failure could see losses extend to $1,750, Halley said.

FarmFutures - Corn prices stumbled to seven-month lows Thursday but finished the session with mildly mixed results after an uneven round of technical maneuvering today. September futures dropped another 2.25 cents to $4.96, while December futures picked up 1.5 cents to $5.1175.

Corn basis bids showed some wild variability across several Midwestern ethanol plants today, moving as much as 80 cents lower at one Indiana facility while jumping 60 cents higher at an Illinois location.

Ethanol production snapped an eight-week losing streak for the week ending September 3 after firming slightly to a daily average of 923,000 barrels.

Production levels remain moderately below the pre-pandemic era, when it routinely topped 1 million barrels per day.

Ahead of USDA's next weekly export report, out tomorrow morning, analyst expect the agency to show corn sales ranging between 19.7 million and 49.2 million bushels for the week ending September 2. Brazil's Conab has lowered its total corn production estimates in 2020/21 for a fifth consecutive month, moving to 3.374 billion bushels. If realized, that would represent a year-over-year decline of more than 16% for this season's drought-stressed crop.

In Argentina, the Rosario grains exchange reports that corn production could come in as high as 2.205 billion bushels for the 2021/22 season. Argentina is one of the world's top corn exporters.

Preliminary volume estimates were for 294,076 contracts, tracking 16% higher than Wednesday's final count of 253,246.

FarmFutures - Wheat prices fell to multiweek lows, with CBOT futures fading below the 100-day moving average for the first time in almost two months after another round of technical selling today. December Chicago SRW futures dropped 16.75 cents to $6.9275, December Kansas City HRW futures lost 21.75 cents to $6.83, and December MGEX spring wheat futures tumbled 27 cents to $8.6750. Ahead of Friday morning's export report from USDA, analysts think the agency will show wheat sales ranging between 7.3 million and 16.5 million bushels for the week ending September 2. Morocco issued a tender to purchase 13.4 million bushels of soft wheat from the United States under the country's preferential tariff import quotas. The grain is for arrival by the end of December. The Philippines purchased around 4.1 million bushels of animal feed wheat in a tender that closed earlier today. The grain was likely sourced from India and Australia and is for shipment starting later this month. Saudi Arabia issued an international tender to purchase 13.2 million bushels of milling wheat from optional origins that closes on Friday.

FarmFutures - Soybean prices faced another moderate drop Thursday on expectations that USDA will raise its yield and production estimates in tomorrow's WASDE report. September futures fell 12 cents to $12.5875, with November futures down 7.25 cents to $12.7225.

Soybean basis bids were steady to weak across the central U.S. Thursday – especially at three Midwestern processors, where bids dropped 5 to 20 cents lower today. Ahead of tomorrow morning's weekly export report from USDA, analysts think the agency will show soybean sales ranging between 33.1 million and 60.6 million bushels for the week ending September 2. Analysts also expect to see soybean sales ranging between 75,000 and 400,000 metric tons last week, plus up to 22,000 MT of soyoil sales.

Private exporters announced to USDA the sale of 4.9 million bushels of soybeans for delivery to China during the 2021/22 marketing year, which began September 1. Prior to Friday morning's WASDE report from USDA, analysts expect the agency to show slightly improved yield and production potential versus a month ago. The average trade guess for yields is at 50.4 bushels per acre (up from 50.0 bpa in August) for a total production of 4.377 billion bushels (up from 4.339 billion bushels last month). Preliminary volume estimates were for 128,422 contracts, trailing Wednesday's final count of 147,836 by 13%.
