BDLive - The JSE closed weaker on Friday amid mixed global markets as investors digested risks from China and prospects of a slowing global economic recovery, among others.

The all share index ended the week lower, with Friday's losses led by industrial metals and resources, both of which dropped sharply. World shares steadied on Friday above three-week lows set in the previous session though they were heading for a weekly loss on China jitters and global growth concerns, while strong US retail sales data buoyed the dollar.

Shares in embattled property developer China Evergrande, which has two-trillion yuan ($310bn) in liabilities and faces an $80m bond coupon payment next week, dropped a further 0.4% on Friday, down 28% this week.

BDLive - Bengaluru - Gold prices recovered on Friday after sliding to a more than one-month low in the previous session, though a firm dollar set the metal on edge for a weekly decline as investors awaited next week's key US Federal Reserve policy meeting.

Spot gold edged up 0.3% to $1,758.10/oz by 3.29am GMT, while US gold futures gained 0.2% to $1,759.50/oz. The precious metal has declined 1.6% this week.

"While support at $1,750 has so far held, with some speculative short-covering lifting prices slightly, the bounce looks anaemic and gold faces another test of $1,750 as the dollar remains firm," said Jeffrey Halley, a senior market analyst for Asia Pacific at Oanda.

FarmFutures - Corn prices posted modest losses Friday amid some technical selling, but nearby contracts finished the week with gains of nearly 2% thanks to some gains earlier this week. December futures dropped 1.75 cents to $5.2775, with March futures down 2 cents to $5.3475.

Corn basis bids continue to show plenty of variability across the Midwest, moving as much as 18 cents higher at an Illinois river terminal while tumbling as much as 25 cents lower at an Iowa processor on Friday.

IHS Markit Agribusiness offered a new estimate for 2021 U.S. corn production, with 15.046 billion bushels. That's slightly above USDA's September estimate of 14.996 billion bushels. The group also estimates harvested area will come in at 85.335 million acres, with average yields of 176.3 bushels per acre.

French farm office FranceAgriMer held the country's corn quality ratings steady in its latest weekly estimates, with 89% of the crop in good-to-excellent condition through September 13. That's well above year-over-year ratings of 59%. Harvest is just beginning for Europe's No. 1 corn producer.

In Ukraine, analyst APK-Inform predicts the country will harvest 1.488 billion bushels of corn in 2021. Ukrainian corn exports are expected to reach 1.181 billion bushels during the 2021/22 marketing year. Ukraine is one of the world's leading exporters of both corn and wheat. Preliminary volume estimates were for 168,158 contracts, drifting slightly below Thursday's final count of 174,066.

FarmFutures - Wheat prices were on their heels Friday after spillover weakness from a broad range of other commodities triggered a round of technical selling that pushed some contracts down as much as 1.2%. December Chicago SRW futures fell 5.75 cents to $7.0725, December Kansas City HRW futures dropped 7 cents to $7.1350, and December MGEX spring wheat futures lost 11 cents to $8.9550.

IHS Markit Agribusiness estimates that all-wheat plantings in the U.S. for 2022 will move 3.3% higher year-over-year to 48.5 million acres. That estimate assumes 34.755 million acres of winter wheat, 11.8 million acres of spring wheat and 1.95 million acres of durum.

Analyst APK-Inform anticipates Ukraine's 2021 wheat production will reach 1.146 billion bushels. The consultancy also predicts Ukraine will export roughly 772 million bushels of wheat during the 2021/22 marketing year. South Korea purchased 3.0 million bushels of wheat from Australia earlier this week. The grain is for shipment in February and March.

Preliminary volume estimates were for 45,439 CBOT contracts, moving below Thursday's final count of 58,485.

FarmFutures - Soybean prices faced moderate cuts after a round of technical selling today, although another flash sale to China reported this morning kept losses somewhat in check. Favorable weather forecasts across much of the central U.S. through the end of September is creating ample downward pressure in the short-term, meantime. November futures eroded 11.75 cents to $12.8425, with January futures down 12 cents to $12.9275. Soybean basis bids were steady to firm at interior river terminals on Friday after rising 2 to 16 cents higher at three locations. Bids held steady elsewhere across the central U.S. today.

Private exporters announced to USDA the sale of 4.9 million bushels of soybeans for delivery to China during the 2021/22 marketing year, which began September 1. IHS Markit Agribusiness estimates that 2021 U.S. soybean production will reach 4.381 billion bushels. That's slightly ahead of USDA's latest estimate of 4.374 billion bushels. The group also estimates average yields at 50.6 bushels per acre, with harvested area reaching 87.385 million acres. If you haven't been to FarmFutures.com in a few days, Friday's "7 ag stories you might have missed" is an excellent way to quickly catch up. The latest batch of content includes updates on stepped-up basis, a new carbon program from Cargill and much more. Click here for details.

Preliminary volume estimates were for 108,139 contracts, slipping slightly below Thursday's final count of 112,535.
