BDLive - The JSE closed weaker on Wednesday as investors mulled over the prospect of tighter monetary policy in the US and the resurgence of Covid in Europe.

The Federal Reserve is scheduled to publish the minutes of its federal open market committee (FOMC) meeting later on Wednesday, which are expected to give further insight into the US central bank's decision to start slowing asset purchases. Fed chair Jerome Powell has pledged to use policy tools to stop higher inflation from "becoming entrenched". Stocks recovered some lost ground on Wednesday as crude prices lifted oil companies, but rising Covid-19 cases in Europe, weaker economic sentiment in Germany and a bagful of US data ahead of the Thanksgiving holiday were a focus for investors.

The Stoxx index of 600 European companies was up 0.4%, recovering from hitting three-week lows on Tuesday due to worries over rising infection rates across mainland Europe leading to lockdowns. Trading at about 481 points, the index is still only about 10 points from last week's record high.

BDLive - Bengaluru — Gold prices edged higher on Wednesday, though strength in the dollar and bets that the Federal Reserve could raise interest rates sooner kept the metal below the key $1,800 mark.

Spot gold rose 0.2% to $1,792.68/oz by 4.38am GMT, after slipping 0.9% to its lowest since November 5 on Tuesday. US gold futures added 0.5% to $1,792.90.

The metal has slumped 4.9% from last week's five-month high on expectations that newly renominated Fed chair Jerome Powell could accelerate the pace at which the central bank normalises monetary policy amid surging consumer prices.

Those bets also helped strengthen the dollar index that steadied near its highest in 16 months on Wednesday, heaping pressure on bullion as it raises the metal's cost to buyers holding other currencies.

FarmProgress - Corn prices edged lower on some technical selling and fund liquidation, but losses were minimal after a flash sale to Mexico was announced this morning. December futures slipped 1.25 cents to $5.7925, with March futures down 3.25 cents to $5.85.

Corn basis bids tracked 2 to 5 cents higher at two Midwestern ethanol plants and firmed 4 cents at an Ohio elevator while holding steady elsewhere across the central U.S. on Wednesday.

Private exporters announced to USDA the sale of 3.9 million bushels of corn for delivery to Mexico during the 2021/22 marketing year, which began September 1.

Ahead of Friday morning's export report from USDA, analysts expect the agency to show corn sales ranging between 31.5 million and 61.0 million bushels for the week ending November 18.

Ethanol production improved to a daily average of 1.079 million barrels in the week through November 19. That's up from 1.060 million barrels per day a week ago. It also marks the seventh consecutive week that production exceeded the 1-million-barrel benchmark. Stocks firmed slightly, moving to 20.164 million barrels.

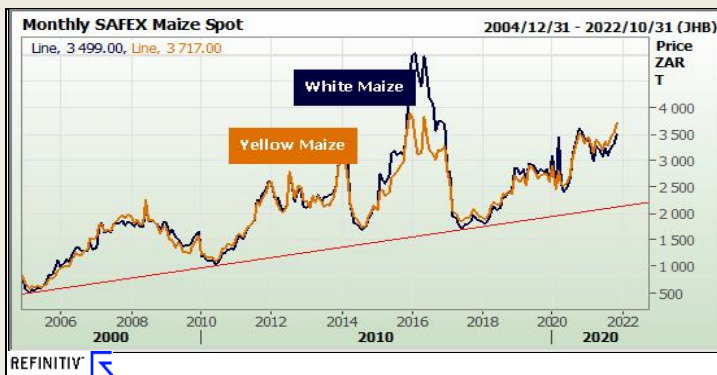

EIA also recently reported the average U.S. price for regular-grade gasoline through November 22 was $3.395 per gallon, trending 4 cents lower week-over-week. Gas prices have largely stabilized over the past month but as still up nearly $1.30 per gallon from a year ago.

FarmProgress - Wheat prices wobbled and closed Wednesday's session with strikingly different results. Chicago SRW contracts faced major cuts, with December futures tumbling 16.25 cents to $8.3975. Kansas City HRW contracts saw more moderate losses, with December futures dropping 4.75 cents to $8.74. MGEX spring wheat contracts bucked that downward trend, meantime, with December futures firming 3.25 cents to $10.4150. Dry weather in the Plains could be cause for concern moving forward for winter wheat. The U.S. Drought Monitor reports 79.6% of the region is experiencing some level of drought through November 16. That's down from 96.0% a year ago but remains at high enough levels that winter wheat quality could struggle without some replenishing rains and snows this winter. USDA reported Monday 44% of the crop was rated in good-to-excellent condition. Ahead of Friday morning's weekly export report from USDA, analysts expect the agency to show wheat sales ranging between 9.2 million and 21.3 million bushels for the week ending November 18.

Russia's 2021 wheat harvest has totaled 2.888 billion bushels across 68,695 million acres so far, per the latest data from the country's agriculture ministry. Harvest pace is lagging 3.8% behind 2020. Russia is the world's No. 1 wheat exporter.

FarmProgress - Soybean prices ultimately followed corn lower with losses of around 0.5% after falling victim to some technical selling and profit-taking today, despite testing moderate gains at times this morning. January futures dropped 7.5 cents to $12.6550, with March futures down 8.5 cents to $12.76.

Soybean basis bids firmed 4 cents at an Ohio elevator and an Illinois river terminal while holding steady elsewhere across the Midwest on Wednesday.

Private exporters announced to USDA the sale of 12.1 million bushels of soybeans for delivery to unknown destinations during the 2021/22 marketing year, which began September 1. Private exports also announced the sale of 30,000 metric tons of soyoil for delivery to India during the 2021/22 marketing year, which began October 1.

Ahead of the next export report from USDA, out Friday morning, analysts expect the agency to show soybean sales ranging between 33.1 million and 68.0 million bushels for the week ending November 18. Analysts also think USDA will report soy meal sales ranging between 100,000 and 370,000 metric tons, plus another 5,000 to 70,000 MT of soyoil sales.
