BDLive - The rand slumped to the lowest level in a month on Tuesday, burdened by global growth concerns, the effect of floods in KwaZulu-Natal and further blackouts by Eskom.

The global mood was also sombre as the IMF slashed its world growth forecast by the most since the early months of the Covid-19 pandemic — and projected even faster inflation — as a result of Russia's invasion of Ukraine and renewed virus lockdowns in China. The local currency fell about 1.5% against the dollar in intraday trading — the most since late February — as Russia's move into eastern Ukraine raised market jitters. Ukrainian President Volodymyr Zelensky said Russian forces had begun a new campaign to conquer the Donbas region in the east of his country.

BDLive - Bengaluru — Gold eased on Tuesday after having touched a resistance at the $2,000 an ounce level in the previous session, as the dollar rose to a two-year high and dented bullion's appeal.

Spot gold was down 0.1% at $1,976.46 an ounce at 2.29am GMT. US gold futures slipped 0.3% to $1,981.00.

Gold climbed to $1,998.10 on Monday, buoyed by safe-haven demand, as the Ukraine crisis dragged on and inflation concerns mounted. However, the metal later gave up most gains as the dollar and US 10-year treasury yields firmed.

"That ($2,000 per ounce) is quite a critical level, and the fact that gold effectively closed flat on the day means there appears to be a slight hesitancy to push immediately higher," said City Index senior market analyst Matt Simpson. "Gold has the ability to overcome the US dollar strength and break above $2,000 possibly over the next week or so."

FarmProgress - Corn prices couldn't hold onto modest overnight gains as traders turned to technical selling and profit-taking today, trending 1% to 1.25% lower by the close. May futures dropped 10.25 cents to $8.03, with July futures down 8 cents to $7.99.

Corn basis bids were steady to mixed on Tuesday after sliding 2 to 4 cents lower at two ethanol plants while firming 1 to 9 cents higher at three other Midwestern locations today.

USDA released its latest crop progress report yesterday afternoon. Corn plantings were at 4% through Sunday, up from 2% a week earlier. Analysts were expecting a slightly better pace, with an average trade guess of 5%. It was also below 2021's pace of 7% and the prior five-year average of 6%. The top three states that have made the most progress so far include Texas (64%), North Carolina (39%) and Kansas (12%).

European Union corn imports for the 2021/22 marketing year are trending slightly higher than last year's pace, reaching 502.7 million bushels through April 17, per the latest data from the European Commission.

Brazil's Anec is only expecting the country to export 33.5 million bushels of corn in April. Anec also anticipates Brazilian wheat exports will reach 5.7 million bushels this month.

FarmProgress - Wheat prices succumbed to moderate losses as traders shrugged off lower-than-expected U.S. quality ratings and engaged in a round of technical selling and profit-taking. May Chicago SRW futures lost 24.25 cents to $10.9625, May Kansas City HRW futures dropped 16 cents to $11.69, and May MGEX spring wheat futures eased 4.75 cents to $11.7025.

USDA trimmed winter wheat quality ratings by two points this week, with just 30% rated in good-to-excellent condition. Analysts were expecting a one-point increase, in contrast. Another 33% of the crop is rated fair (up one point from last week), with the remaining 37% rated poor or very poor (also up one point from last week).

Physiologically, 7% of the crop is headed through Sunday, up from 5% the prior week. That's slower than both 2021's pace of 9% and the prior five-year average of 12%. For spring wheat, 9% of this year's crop has been planted so far.

European Union soft wheat exports during the 2021/22 marketing year reached 781.2 million bushels through April 17, which is a year-over-year decline of 4.6% so far. EU barley exports are also tracking slightly below last year's pace, with 291.7 million bushels.

FarmProgress - Soybean prices remain in great shape overall but failing to move the needle significantly after a choppy session that featured some uneven maneuvering and mixed results. May futures picked up 2 cents to $17.1675, while July futures slid 1.25 cents lower to $16.92.

Soybean basis bids were mostly steady across the central U.S. on Tuesday but did move 2 cents higher at an Ohio elevator and 5 cents higher at an Illinois river terminal today.

Private exporters announced to USDA the sale of 4.5 million bushels of soybeans for delivery to unknown destinations during the 2021/22 marketing year, which began September 1.

Soybean plantings are off to a slower-than-usual start, with 1% progress nationwide. That's slower than analysts expected, who had offered an average trade guess of 2%. Last year's pace was 3%, and the prior five-year average was 2%. The three states that have made the most inroads so far include Louisiana (23%), Mississippi (10%) and Arkansas (8%).
